

THE GAMES

I am a sceptic. Last year my wife was very keen to enter the lottery to go in the draw to get tickets to the Commonwealth Games on the Gold Coast. I relented. I remember being sceptical enough not to get tickets to the Sydney 2000 Olympics and then regretting it once the games began and the hype increased.

Anyway, we got tickets to the Netball, the Athletics and the Rugby 7's. Watched the opening ceremony on TV, watched a bit of beach volleyball on TV, a bit of swimming and started to get hyped.

Then we went to the netball. It was awesome. The movement of people to and from venues, the volunteers and the positivity, the venues, the hype, the actual competition and sporting excellence, the vibe, the whole shebang completely overwhelmed my scepticism and we loved it. I grabbed an extra ticket to go to the hockey as well with Mr Needham (a hockey tragic) and loved that too. Every occasion we had to be there we had the same experience, a truly world class competition and an internationally envious organization of the whole games.

And then came the closing ceremony. Wasn't that something? We stayed up all night and watched that on telly. Like many Australians, we wondered about some of the song choices and the artists. We certainly wondered where the athletes were and suspected that the broadcasters were holding them until last to keep us glued to our telly as long as possible. But they never came. Sadly.

And then they cut to Johanna Griggs and Basil Sempilas. That was a moon landing moment I reckon. Those who saw it live will remember it for the rest of their lives. It was quite shocking and unexpected and certainly added to the hype about the whole show. I think it made the gap between the real and the ideal seem larger than it actually was.

I feel a bit sad about all of that negativity though. I think one of the really good decisions that was made by the organisers was to include school kids and volunteers in both the opening and closing ceremonies. Our College had a number of students participating in both, and ex-students as well. They trained so hard, spent so many long nights for months in preparation, contributed selflessly to the event in service of something greater than themselves, and they shone. The images we saw on TV of the life guards, the dancers, the kids with the glowing cubes, choirs, all of them were terrific. Their enthusiasm and dedication was so obvious to see and should be applauded and praised. The very spirit of the games that we all saw so openly each day through the service of the volunteers at events, for my money, was beautifully echoed in the participation of those kids from across Queensland and they deserve to be equally honoured and cherished as such.

I think we need to be really careful when we criticise. There is honour in heartfelt voluntary endeavour. Some of the decisions that were made about that ceremony are right to be questioned, but overwhelmingly we should give thanks for that which is done on our behalf, without our request, in service of our greater good.

Particularly given we have just emerged from the Easter break.

SECONDARY SCHOOL

WELCOME BACK!! - I reflected with the students this week that schools are eerily quiet spaces in the holidays. Yes it is great for our teachers, admin and grounds staff to have that peace and quiet to get stuff done but you can tell something is missing. As our students returned today it is evident that this is the energy and vibrancy our students bring to the College. They are the centre of what we do at Faith and when they are absent it doesn't quite feel the same. It felt amazing to have them back on campus. My message to them was to take all of the opportunities afforded to them at Faith and work with their teachers and parents to do their best at all times.

WELCOME

COMMUNICATION

Secondary School Email - To streamline bulk email communications and help support parents in terms of more efficient communication the Secondary School will be using a generic email address from early in Term Two. You will still receive emails that relate specifically to your child directly from teachers; however, all bulk emails will be sent from a single email account managed by the Secretary to the Head of Secondary. The email address for this account is faithsecondaryadmin@fcr.qld.edu.au. We hope that this will provide an easy go to address when parents are looking for important information they have received.

Finally, thank you to our families for organising formal uniform for the start of Term 2. Our students looked amazing as they entered the College today. Reminder, that the College blazer is not compulsory until the College confirms by email to families.

I look forward to informing you of all the great things happening and all the amazing achievements of our students at Faith this term.

Stuart Needham
Head of Secondary School

JUNIOR SCHOOL

WELCOME – Term 2 is upon us. It always proves to be a busy one and is filled with opportunities for our community to celebrate the great place that Faith is. We hope that your family had time to enjoy together over the recent holiday period and shared lots of fun times.

We welcome Reina (4N) and Nathaniel (3G) Zordan and their family to Faith this term. We look forward to getting to know you and welcome you to Faith!

ANZAC DAY – Next Tuesday, 24 April the Junior School ANZAC Ceremony will be held in the SPAH at 9:15am. All parents and Faith community members are welcome to join us. A reminder that Wednesday, 25 April is the annual ANZAC Day Public Holiday.

AWARENESS DAY – Next Thursday, 26 April is our Junior School Awareness Day. This day is led by Education Officers from Australian Lutheran World Service and provides our students with an opportunity to learn about the plight of others less fortunate than ourselves. This year the theme of the day is, 'Survive or Thrive - Asia'. On Awareness Day, students will explore what challenges and problems are ... and then complete a series of challenges throughout the day. They will either survive or thrive ... to be the ultimate survivor!

One of the challenges we ask children to consider on this day is to eat meals similar to a child in a country we are learning about for that day. This year the students will be offered a Cambodian dish called Kuay Namuan (Bananas cooked in coconut milk) for Morning Tea and a small scoop of rice with beans for lunch. Children are welcome to bring their own morning tea and lunch to school on the day but we invite you to talk to your child about taking part in the food challenge to gain a glimpse into the life of a child in a country such as Cambodia.

SPEECH AND DRAMA – There are currently two vacancies for our Year 3-6 Speech and Drama group held on a Friday lunchtime. Forms are available in the office or enrol online at <http://tksspeechanddrama.com.au>

COLES SPORTS FOR SCHOOLS – A last minute call out for any vouchers? Please send them to the Junior School Office this week if possible. Thank you to all of our families who have collected so many vouchers for us!

CONGRATULATIONS – Our College had a number of students, graduate students and staff involved in the Commonwealth Games. A special mention to our Junior School staff, Mrs Jacqui Castorina and Mrs Susanne Cook for their roles as 'Games Shapers' Volunteers and to Mrs Forbes for her roles in the Opening and Closing ceremonies. Wonderful ladies giving their time on a volunteer basis, thank you!

OUTSIDE SCHOOL HOURS CARE

Welcome to Term 2! Vacation Care was awesome! If you missed out, you really missed out. Mr Simon was lucky enough to have the first week off while Miss Kaitlyn and the team facilitated a wonderful program for the children. Even with the Commonwealth Games on, we managed to get out on some excursions, as well as hosting some great incursions.

Don't forget the convenient options we have for booking and changing bookings. Download our App to take advantage of these options, search 'Faith OSHC' through your App platform.

COMMUNITY NEWS

PIECE ...“And so there is no division in the body, but all its different parts have the same concern for one another.”<sup>1</sup> Corinthians 12:25

Each term an event is organised offering a talk by a specialist presenter with a focus on either parenting or education. This term we enjoyed an inspiring address by Peter Janetzki on “Building Champions”. Peter left us with a number of points to consider; here are just a few:

consider; here are just a few:

- A champion is one who finishes strong (not necessarily the one who always wins!)
- A champion is determined and doesn't give up when defeated (multiple times!)
- A champion is one who stands up for moral justice and good values (others may not!)

Life is full of unexpected challenges and we would like our children to have strength of character and commitment (to be resilient, good team players, worthy citizens and self-confident to name a few).

Next term we look forward to a presentation by Megan Warren from Key to Kids on Thursday, 3 May from 7:00 – 9:00pm, in the Multipurpose Space in I-Block on Link Road (alongside the Year 6 Learning Space. Well known locally for her presentations based on the acclaimed book ‘How to talk so kids will listen & Listen so kids will talk’ by Adele Faber and Elaine Mazlish. Her talk will include practical ideas on: Building your child's resilience and independence.

The committee also aims to encourage parents, particularly those who have a child with a disability or learning difficulty, to meet each other and develop a support network amongst themselves. Casual parent-to-parent Coffee and Cake events will be advertised at regular intervals. During the first term Lindie and Bronwyn hosted 2 coffee mornings, one afternoon and an evening at Barcella, Espresso & Harvest in Victoria Point. Contact Lindie on mha46517@bigpond.net.au if you would like further details.

Further information regarding PIECE can be accessed from our college website under the Community section. From the “Parent Resources” tab, you will be able to locate PIECE documents and information. A number of books and resources on parenting are available for loan from the Parent Library located on both campuses.
